An up-to-date Book for Law Students in all the States.

HAIGHT'S QUESTIONS and ANSWERS for BAR EXAMINATION REVIEW

SECOND EDITION, REVISED AND ENLARGED

A new and thoroughly up-to-date book for the use of Law Students in all the States in preparing for the Bar or Law School Examinations.

by

CHARLES S. HAIGHT, M.A. (Yale), LL.B. (Harvard), OF THE NEW YORK BAR

ARTHUR M. MARSH, B.A. (Yale), LL.B. (Harvard),
OF THE CONNECTICUT BAR

In this work the authors, it is believed, have met the needs of law students in a more thorough and satisfactory way than has ever been done before.

In many of the previous books, old examinations papers have been largely relied upon in choosing the questions to be treated, and in some cases that plan has been so far followed, that only questions have been discussed which have actually been put by some examining board. The result of such a system was that all of the principles of the law upon which former examiners had not touched, were entirely ignored, and the book was practically useless if a new board of examiners saw fit to prepare new questions.

In the present work, however, such a plan has been carefully avoided, and the different subjects of the law have been treated in the same logical way for review that they would originally be studied by the student.

By this method of treatment the whole ground has been covered, and the book has thus been made as valuable for use in one State as another, and students of any law school may use the book with equal advantage, no matter at what bar they are seeking admission. The present book is the only one of the kind which requires the application of legal principles to a statement of the facts given in the question. The work thus meets the requirements of students, in view of the marked change, in this respect, in the nature of the questions now asked by bar examiners.

It will also be found of great assistance to law students in preparing for their Law School Examinations.

The book covers all the subjects embraced in a full law course, and may also be used to advantage by lawyers as a book for speedy reference, and will be especially useful to those who have but limited use of a library. As far as such a thing is possible, it is a pocket encyclopaedia of legal principles and leading cases.

Following is a list of subjects fully covered in this great work:

Agency, Bankruptcy, Bills and Notes, Carriers, Constitutional Law, Contracts, Corporations, Criminal Law, Damages, Domestic Relations, Equity, Evidence, Insurance, Partnership, Pleading; Common Law, Pleading and Practice under the N. Y. Code of Civil Procedure, Property, Personal; Property, Real, Sales, Suretyship, Torts, Trusts.

HAIGHT'S QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS, Second Edition, is an octave volume of more than 600 pages, handsomely bound in law canvass. Price $4.00 net, but delivered to any address on receipt of the price.

What Law Books Have Permanent Value

Let us reason together. First assume that all law books may be divided into two general classes, Books of Search, or text books, etc., and Books of Reference or general reports (with their digests).

In your experience which of these two classes have the most permanent value? Reports, of course.

Every lawyer can count by the score text books of all degrees or original value and scope published in the past 20 years, but now of little value and almost no marketability. Of course those reports have the greatest and most lasting value which contain the cases of most general utility, in other words the fewest cases of interest only to one locality or jurisdiction. This means selected cases.

Now suppose you could have in one set the great present value of the best text books on all subjects together with the permanent value of the best selected reports. Does not that make the ideal compendium of American Law?

The above was exactly our reasoning twenty years ago when we started Lawyers Reports Annotated, which is the only work of search founded on current reports.

It has in that time proved our reasoning sound by attracting the largest subscription list of any set of reports ever published.

It requires an Index of 600 pages to cover the text work in the set. If you have not the complete Digest send for this Index. Ask for "Desk Book for Brief Makers," and enclose the cost of delivery only, 25c.

A 1909 Work on a 1909 Subject

Joyce on Injunctions

by Howard C. Joyce, of New York City

An especially timely work just now when relief is so often sought through injunctions. It states the law as it is TO-DAY, covering the subject fully and emphasizing and amplifying the many unusual points considered during the past few years.

It is the only modern work on the subject, concise yet covering every phase of the law, with every citation to a proposition of law directly in point.

Labor Matters, Strikes, Boycotts, Conspiracies, Monopolies, Contracts in Restraint of Trade, Laws Regulating Rates of Public Service Corporations are treated in their modern aspects. For many new phases of these subjects have been up for judicial interpretation in the past ten years and important decisions have been made.

In No Other Work, we believe, will be found so complete, exhaustive and up to date a Treatment of Live Subjects and New Constructions of particular interest in regard to the law of Injunctions as construed by the courts to-day.

A New Treatment of a Large and Growing Subject

Underhill on Landlord & Tenant

Embracing the Lease (Its Form, Execution, Construction, Assignment, Surrender and Parties to it), Various kinds of Tenancy Created, Rent and its Incidents. Eviction, Destruction of the Premises, Landlord's Negligence, Duty to Repair, Emblements,
 : : Fixtures, Etc. : :

By H. C. UNDERHILL, of the New York City Bar, Author of "Wills,"
 "Civil Evidence," "Criminal Evidence," Etc.

This book has been in active preparation for eight years, and is the ripened product of an author well and favorably known to the profession, especially by his work on "Wills," 2 Volumes (1901), which, by common consent, is acknowledged to be the authority upon the subject.

The author considers first—The Parties to a Lease, the Form and Execution of the Lease, and the various Forms of the Relation of Landlord and Tenant, which are Recognized by Law. The Attornment of the Tenant, his Possession and the Rent are then considered. Very full treatment is also given to Fraud as grounds for setting aside a Lease, the Use of the Premises, Tenant's Estoppel and Option to Purchase.

The treatment given is concise and to the point, and at the same time is sufficiently full to give all the law. A full line of American and English cases are cited to the date of going to press. Those cases which have been reversed or overruled are noted. Parallel citations are given to the National Reporter System, L. R. A., Trinity Series, Etc.

It is believed that the members of the profession will welcome the book as a useful and a valuable addition to their law libraries.
